

● Visualising, Refining and interpreting the invisible and intangible

● Processing, Analysing and Learning from curated large data collections

● Discover appropriate examples, properties and principles

● Propose and refine conjecture space to guide the development of theory

● Learning to simulate and assist experiments

● Simulating complex/micro/macrosystems

● Offering practical guidances for experiments